

Eisenhower Is In Cheerful Mood As He Signs Name To Two Papers, First In Week

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's signing of two routine federal documents put him back in business today at the helm of his administration.

And his chief deputy, Sherman Adams, set up shop at the Denver White House to lay the groundwork for the President's gradual return to greater personal activity as his health permits.

Adams came in by plane last night to open his office on the second floor of the Lowry Air Force Base administration building, across the corridor from Eisenhower's executive office.

The first week passed since the President, who will be 65 on Oct. 14, suffered an early morning attack of coronary thrombosis last Saturday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Family, Staff Cheerful

While doctors will keep their fingers crossed for a second, potentially dangerous week, the absence of any complications cheered his family and staff.

The President took the first small but significant step toward return to active command last night. He approved two lists of State Department foreign service appointments in his room on the eighth floor of Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

The appointments themselves were routine enough, cleared by Secretary of State Dulles and checked by Adams, but the action assumed significance as the first business transacted by the Chief Executive since he was stricken.

President Is Cheerful

Adams didn't see the President last night. The President's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, took the lists into the sickroom and started to explain to the President where to initial them.

The President cheerfully reminded the doctor:

"Howard, I know more about this than you do."

And he proceeded to write "Dwight D. Eisenhower" on both documents, although White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said his initials would have sufficed.

As to when and what future business will be taken up with the President, Hagerty said that would be up to his doctors.

"The doctors are in charge of this case," Hagerty added, "and Gov. Adams and myself at all times will ask the doctors for their decisions before any action is taken on anything."

CHEST CANVASS COLLECTS $382 FRIDAY NIGHT

Despite a drizzle, Community Chest collectors collected $382 during the first two hours of the campaign Friday night.

The canvassers began their door-to-door visitations in the community at 7 o'clock. Reports made at 9 o'clock to Secretary John Weischose and Drive Chairman John C. Stahle at the Chamber of Commerce office showed a total cash collection of $382 by house canvassing during that period. Tabulation of amounts received by mail and through other sources is scheduled to begin Monday.

The drive will extend through October 10, with the Community Chest seeking to raise $19,700 in that period.

Supports Six Organizations

Contributions made to Community Chest support the Civic Nurse Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Library, Recreation Association and YWCA locally.

Chairman Stahle, from a quick check of the first contributions, said that it appeared that many people are "becoming conscious of the fact that this is actually six drives at one time, because if it were not for Community Chest, each of the six agencies would be forced to put on its own campaign."

MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BE HELD HERE ON FEBRUARY 15

Plans for the annual Adams County Music Festival, with more than 300 students expected to participate, were outlined Friday by the county's music supervisors at a meeting in New Oxford during the 99th annual sessions of the Adams County Teachers Institute.

The festival will be held Feb. 15 in Gettysburg High School's new 1,500-seat auditorium. Following the custom of the last several years, the student musicians will gather for two night rehearsals and then will rehearse all day February 15 before presenting the annual bands and choruses concert that evening.

President Earl Ward, East Berlin, named a number of committees to serve. President Ward will head the publicity committee, which will include all of the members of the music supervisor's organization.

Other Committees

Charles L. Yost, Biglerville, will have charge of the program; Mrs. Ann Settle and Harold Sanders, Biglerville, will comprise the resolutions committee. Staging and lighting will be handled by Robert Zeigler and Paul Grove, of Gettysburg. The sustenance committee includes Dale Roth and Miss Catherine O'Boyle, York Springs.

The next meeting of the music supervisors will be held November 9 at the York Springs High School.

Donald Kemp, New Oxford, was named vice president of the organization in a special election held because the former vice president has secured a position outside the county.

TEACHERS VOTE ON "BEHAVIOR" AT INSTITUTE

Approximately 300 attending the 99th annual Adams County Teachers Institute at New Oxford High School Friday balloted on the worst behavior problems they have in their schools, but it will be several weeks before they know the results of their vote.

With "Pupil Behavior and Control at School" as the principal topic for discussion at Friday's sessions, the teachers were handed a list of 50 of the problems of student behavior found most common by teachers throughout the nation.

The Adams County teachers were asked to state their "preferences" among the 50, judging by the behavior of their own students, in order to compare Adams County youngsters with their fellow students throughout the nation.

The forms were collected by the county superintendent's staff Friday afternoon and they will tabulate the figures in the near future — to determine whether Adams County students differ from a million pupils in other schools.

Take Forms Home

Teachers found cataloging of the "sins" of the students so interesting that about half took additional copies home, to check again how their youngsters compare with the "norm."

In general discussion periods, the teachers held that many problems in the school arise from lack of control at home, and held that much of that problem stems from the fact that both parents frequently have to work to support the family — and the youngsters are left too much to their own devices.

Primary grade teachers in particular held that far too many students arrive in the mornings sleepy — from too much television the night before.

Feed Schools Lax

A great number of the teachers held that schools have become too lax — that they no longer present the night before.

September Weather Was Cool, Dry, Quiet, Mild And Pleasant

Following the hottest August since weather readings were recorded in Gettysburg, September settled down to become a relatively cool month.

The relief was welcomed. July, the hottest month in 53 years, was followed by the record August heatwave.

The last month a pleasant average of 65.85 degrees was recorded, just 15 of a degree less than the normal of 66 degrees for September in the borough.

September Is Dry

September was also dry and cool. August had deluged the town with 10.15 inches of rain, making it the wettest August since 1940.

In September rainfall measured only 1.83 inches, or 1.63 inches less than the normal 3.46 inches for the month. But 1955 still remains ahead of the 10 year average for moisture. August's heavy rainfall put the year 4.26 inches ahead as far as accumulated rainfall was concerned, and September's dryness just whittled down that "lead" a little.

September was a quiet month as far as weather was concerned. Even hurricanes that threatened turned away and left the borough with fine weather after some cloudiness and rain.

The average high each day was 76.5 and at no time during September did the thermometer climb into the 90s. The hottest day, September 17, when the mercury climbed to 88. Nor did it get too cool. The average low was 55.2 and the coldest night brought with it 42 degrees, on September 27. The mercury actually fell below 50 degrees on only five nights last month, and on 11 of the nights the thermometer was in the 60s throughout the night.

Arendtsville Lab

The Arendtsville Laboratory reported the average temperature for that area last month was 64.3 degrees, one degree below normal and 2.3 below last year.

The average maximum temperature was 75.5 and the average minimum 53.1. September 6 had the highest temperature when the mercury reached 87. The lowest reading was 44 on September 27.

Rainfall totaled 3.25 inches, 1.22 inches above normal and 1.07 inches above that of September, 1954. There were 189 hours and 45 minutes of sunshine, or 50.66 per cent.

Fire Destroys 1,200 Buildings

TOKYO (AP) — Dying typhoon Louise struck Japan a final staggering blow today with a wind-whipped holocaust that burned the heart out of Niigata City, 270 miles north of Tokyo.

A small fire that began with a short circuit at 3:10 a.m. was turned into a raging inferno within minutes as 45 m.p.h. winds from Louise's outriding gusts drove the flames through downtown buildings and houses.

It was Japan's worst fire since the World War II air raids.

Before it was brought under control seven hours later, the fire had devoured 1,200 buildings and devastated an area totaling almost 100 acres.

Fire-wise Japanese fled quickly and although scores of injuries were reported, only one person was listed as seriously hurt in sketchy reports from the stricken city.

Police said nearly 5,000 were homeless. They were getting help from the government and also from the U.S. Air Force.

Two Cars Damaged In Friday Collision

No one was injured but damage totaled $225 when two cars collided at 10:30 o'clock Friday night six miles west of Fairfield on the Waynesboro Rd.

State Police said John Henry Thompson, 17, Camp Hill, a high school student, was driving east and attempted to pass two cars ahead of him. His vehicle, police said, failed to regain its side of the highway in time and struck a west-bound car operated by Ada A. Price, 20, Gettysburg R. 2, a factory worker. Damage to the Thompson car was estimated at $150 and to the Price car at $75.

VISITORS ARE INVITED TO SEE APPLE ORCHARDS

Hundreds of tourists began arriving in Adams County early this week to witness the harvest of one of the finest apple crops in the history of the industry, and agriculture leaders estimate that thousands will see this spectacular sight within the next three weeks.

Fremont Kuntz, president of the Adams County's Fruit Growers' Association which last May 1 was host to 25,000 tourists for Apple Blossom Weekend, Thursday issued an invitation to the public to visit the county's 15,000 acres of apple orchards.

"Our orchards have never been prettier than they are this year," he said, "and we want to share their beauty with others."

Quality Is Better

Growers report that while the crop is only slightly larger than last year's, the fruit is of superior quality and color. Abundant rainfall and cold nights have provided ideal coloring and ripening conditions, producing fine-textured, juicy apples. The brilliance of the fruit is supplemented this year by rich foliage against a background of woods and mountains.

Adams County is the largest processing county in the industry with three of the world's largest apple processors located within a radius of seven miles. Knouse Foods, Duff-Mott and C. H. Musselman Company process 75 per cent of the county's 2,500,000 bushels into ready-to-use slices, sauce and juice for the nation's household consumers. Substantial quantities of both fresh and canned apples are exported annually.

Good Roadside Business

Scores of roadside fruit stands line the county's highways to retail about 200,000 bushels of fresh market varieties to consumers who like to buy fruit and homemade cider direct from growers. Another 500,000 bushels are delivered to commercial packing houses for packaging in baskets, bags and boxes for distribution to chain stores and metropolitan markets.

Nearly 3,000 persons are engaged in the county's apple harvest. The county's five processing plants require another 2,500 local people to process the fruit at the peak of maturity.

Varieties of apples currently being harvested are Red and Golden Delicious, Jonathans and Grimes Golden. Growers expect to complete the harvest of Rome Beauty, Stayman and York Imperial crops by October 26.

MIDWEEK MART DISCONTINUED UNTIL SUMMER

Tuesday's market will be the last regular midweek session of the Farmers' Market until next year, attendants reported this morning.

With the close of the Tuesday mart, only Saturday markets will be held, with the exception of holidays, until next summer.

Tuesday is expected to be the last day on which "roasting ears" will be offered. Farmers said they expect the corn to be about 40 cents a dozen, reporting that better quality is expected Tuesday than was available this morning.

Tomatoes continued in better quality than was available earlier in the season, with prices generally 20 cents a box. Peaches also continued in good supply and good quality at 20 cents a quart box, 35 cents a half peck and $2.50 a bushel.

Other Prices

Apples were 25 cents a quarter peck, 45 cents a half peck, $1.50 a half bushel; stringless and corn beans 15 to 20 cents a quart; baby lima beans 30 cents a pint; pears and plums were available at 30 cents a box for pears, 20 cents a box for plums.

Pumpkins, of a size large enough for Halloween lanterns, were selling at from 15 to 25 cents apiece. Lettuce and spinach were 15 cents a box; watercress, 10 cents a box; radishes, five and ten cents a bunch; egg plants, 10 and 15 cents apiece; squash, 10 and 15 cents apiece; peppers two for five to five cents apiece; potatoes, 25 cents a quarter peck, 40 cents a half peck, $1.25 a bushel.

MAN IS JAILED FOR BURGLARY; SUSPECT HELD

Two more men were taken into custody by state police Friday afternoon and evening as police continued their investigation of burglaries in the area following the capture of a 17-year-old youth early Friday morning as he attempted to flee police at the Cross-Keys Drive-In theater.

Patrick Smith, 21, Brunshtown, was arrested Friday afternoon and jailed on burglary and larceny charges.

Friday night Arthur Lawyer, 24, Hanover, was placed in the jail pending further investigation. Police have up to 72 hours before placing charges if they wish to jail suspects for investigation.

Seven Now Jailed

Arrest of Lawyer and Smith brings to seven the number of Hanover area men jailed in connection with the burglary of a number of places in the Hanover area, East Berlin and Harney.

The group of seven includes five men and two juveniles. The other three men listed Friday as involved were Robert Earl Shultz, 22, Littlestown; Richard Mummert, 26, Hanover; and Bernard Feeser, 21, Brunshtown.

The series of arrests began about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning when two state policemen, on the usual "midnight patrol" out of Gettysburg, made their normal check at the Cross Keys Drive-In and two men ran out of the door at the projection room-lunch room structure at the theater lot. Police caught a 17-year-old youth in the foot race that followed but failed to capture a man with him.

Since then the others have been picked up one by one by State and Hanover police. At the state police sub-station this morning officers said "the investigation is continuing; there may be more."

DRACHA WAIVES RAID HEARING

Wilmer Dracha, steward of the American Legion Club of Gettysburg, at direction of his attorney, waived a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Friday night on gambling charges and posted $1,000 bail for his appearance in November court.

Dracha was charged by state police following a raid on the American Legion home here Thursday afternoon in which police allege they found "trade" boards, and two slot machines which, the officers said, apparently has not been in use for several years.

Two counts of having the gambling devices on the premises were placed against Dracha as the steward of the club.

Later today charges are scheduled to be brought against an official of the local VFW in connection with the finding there, during a raid at the same time Thursday, of some trade boards, which were also said not to have been in use.

Police made the raids when they were called in by Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board agents.

2 Rescued From Minnesota Mine After Twenty Hours

ELY, Minn. (AP)—The sound of crackling timbers and sliding rock, terrifying to an iron miner, featured the memory today of two men rescued after a 20-hour entrapment, 1,300 feet underground.

Albert March, 41, and Tonyo God, 35, offered humble thanks to God and to a desperate team of rescuers who pulled them to safety after a 20-hour ordeal.

Still imprisoned somewhere near the 13th level of the Old Mine Mining Company's Pioneer Mine was a fellow worker, Joe Glusko. Workers said there was virtually no chance that he was still alive. But fresh news—were sent him by radio today to pass the word for Glusko, and his bond.

The ordeal was recalled by March, married and the father of two children, through his brother, "We could hear them drilling and it was like another cave-in. We didn't think they could get to us and Sunday."

Eisenhower Is In Cheerful Mood As He Signs Name To Two Papers, First In Week

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's signing of two routine federal documents put him back in business today at the helm of his administration.

And his chief deputy, Sherman Adams, set up shop at the Denver White House to lay the groundwork for the President's gradual return to greater personal activity as his health permits.

Adams came in by plane last night to open his office on the second floor of the Lowry Air Force Base administration building, across the corridor from Eisenhower's executive office.

The first week passed since the President, who will be 65 on Oct. 14, suffered an early morning attack of coronary thrombosis last Saturday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Family, Staff Cheer

While doctors will keep their fingers crossed for a second, potentially dangerous week, the absence of any complications cheered his family and staff.

The President took the first small but significant step toward return to active command last night. He approved two lists of State Department foreign service appointments in his room on the eighth floor of Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

The appointments themselves were routine enough, cleared by Secretary of State Dulles and checked by Adams, but the action assumed significance as the first business transaction by the Chief Executive since he was stricken.

President Is Cheerful

Adams didn't see the President last night. The President's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, took the lists into the sickroom and started to explain to the President where to initial them.

The President cheerfully reminded the doctor:

"Howard, I know more about this than you do."

And he proceeded to write "Dwight D. Eisenhower" on both documents, although White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said his initials would have sufficed.

As to when and what future business will be taken up with the President, Hagerty said that would be up to his doctors.

"The doctors are in charge of this case," Hagerty added, "and Gov. Adams and myself at all times will ask the doctors for their decisions before any action is taken on anything."

CHEST CANVASS COLLECTS $382 FRIDAY NIGHT

Despite a drizzle, Community Chest solicitors collected $382 during the first two hours of the campaign Friday night.

The canvassers began their door-to-door visitations in the community at 7 o'clock. Reports made at 9 o'clock to Secretary John Welschene and Drive Chairman John C. Stahl at the Chamber of Commerce office showed a total cash collection of $382 by chest canvassing during that period. Tabulation of amounts received by mail and through other sources is scheduled to begin Monday.

The drive will extend through October 10, with the Community Chest seeking to raise $19,700 in that period.

Supports Six Organizations

Contributions made to Community Chest support the Civic Nurse Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Library, Recreation Association and YWCA locally.

Chairman Stahl, from a quick check of the first contributions, said that it appeared that many people are "becoming conscious of the fact that this is actually six drives at one time, because if it were not for Community Chest, each of the six agencies would be forced to put on its own campaign."

MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BE HELD HERE ON FEBRUARY 15

Plans for the annual Adams County Music Festival, with more than 300 students expected to participate, were outlined Friday by the county's music supervisors at a meeting in New Oxford during the 99th annual sessions of the Adams County Teachers Institute.

The festival will be held Feb. 15 in Gettysburg High School's new 1,500-seat auditorium. Following the custom of the last several years, the student musicians will gather for two night rehearsals and then will rehearse all day February 15 before presenting the annual bands and choruses concert that evening.

President Earl Ward, East Berlin, named a number of committees to serve. President Ward will head the publicity committee, which will include all of the members of the music supervisor's organization.

Other Committees

Charles L. Yost, Biglerville, will have charge of the program. Mrs. Ann Settle and Harold Sanders, Biglerville, will comprise the resolutions committee. Staging and lighting will be handled by Robert Zeigler and Paul Grove, of Gettysburg. The sustenance committee includes Dale Roth and Miss Catherine O'Boyle, York Springs.

The next meeting of the music supervisors will be held November 9 at the York Springs High School.

Donald Kemp, New Oxford, was named vice president of the organization in a special election held because the former vice president has secured a position outside the county.

September Weather Was Cool, Dry, Quiet, Mild And Pleasant

Following the hottest August since weather readings were recorded in Gettysburg, September settled down to become a relatively cool month.

The relief was welcomed. July, the hottest month in 53 years, was followed by the record August heatwave.

The last month a pleasant average of 65.85 degrees was recorded, just .15 of a degree less than the normal of 66 degrees for September in the borough.

September Is Dry

September was also dry and cool. August had deluged the town with 10.15 inches of rain, making it the wettest August since 1940.

In September rainfall measured only 1.83 inches, or 1.63 inches less than the normal 3.46 inches for the month. But 1955 still remains ahead of the 10 year average for moisture. August's heavy rainfall put the year 4.26 inches ahead as far as accumulated rainfall was concerned, and September's dryness just whittled down that "lead" a little.

September was a quiet month as far as weather was concerned. Even hurricanes that threatened turned away and left the borough

Fire Destroys 1,200 Buildings

TOKYO (AP) — Dying typhoon Louise struck Japan a final staggering blow today with a wind-whipped holocaust that burned the heart out of Niigata City, 270 miles north of Tokyo.

A small fire that began with a short circuit at 3:10 a.m. was turned into a raging inferno within minutes as 45 m.p.h. winds from Louise's outlying gusts drove the flames through downtown buildings and houses.

It was Japan's worst fire since the World War II air raids.

Before it was brought under control seven hours later, the fire had devoured 1,200 buildings and devastated an area totaling almost 100 acres.

Fire-wise Japanese fled quickly and although scores of injuries were reported, only one person was listed as seriously hurt in sketchy reports from the stricken city.

Police said nearly 5,000 were homeless. They were getting help from the government and also from the U.S. Air Force.

Two Cars Damaged In Friday Collision

No one was injured but damage totaled $225 when two cars collided at 10:30 o'clock Friday night six miles west of Fairfield on the Waynesboro Rd.

State Police said John Henry Thompson, 17, Camp Hill, a high school student, was driving east and attempted to pass two cars ahead of him. His vehicle, police said, failed to regain its side of the highway in time and struck a west-bound car operated by Ada A. Price, 20, Gettysburg R. 2, a factory worker. Damage to the Thompson car was estimated at $150 and to the Price car at $75.

VISITORS ARE INVITED TO SEE APPLE ORCHARDS

Hundreds of tourists began arriving in Adams County early this week to witness the harvest of one of the finest apple crops in the history of the industry, and agriculture leaders estimate that thousands will see this spectacular sight within the next three weeks.

Fremont Kuntz, president of the Adams County's Fruit Growers' Association which last May I was host to 25,000 tourists for Apple Blossom Weekend, Thursday issued an invitation to the public to visit the county's 15,000 acres of apple orchards.

"Our orchards have never been prettier than they are this year," he said, "and we want to share their beauty with others."

Quality Is Better

Growers report that while the crop is only slightly larger than last year's, the fruit is of superior quality and color. Abundant rainfall and cold nights have provided ideal coloring and ripening conditions, producing fine-textured, juicy apples. The brilliance of the fruit is supplemented this year by rich foliage against a background of woods and mountains.

Adams County is the largest processing county in the industry with three of the world's largest apple processors located within a radius of seven miles. Knouse Foods, Duff-Mott and C. H. Musselman Company process 75 per cent of the county's 2,500,000 bushels into ready-to-use slices, sauce and juice for the nation's household consumers. Substantial quantities of both fresh and canned apples are exported annually.

Good Roadside Business

Scores of roadside fruit stands line the county's highways to retail about 200,000 bushels of fresh market varieties to consumers who like to buy fruit and homemade cider direct from growers. Another 500,000 bushels are delivered to commercial packing houses for packaging in baskets, bags and boxes for distribution to chain stores and metropolitan markets.

Nearly 3,000 persons are engaged in the county's apple harvest. The county's five processing plants require another 2,500 local people to process the fruit at the peak of maturity.

Varities of apples currently being harvested are Red and Golden Delicious, Jonathans and Grimes Golden. Growers expect to complete the harvest of Rome Beauty, Stayman and York Imperial crops by October 26.

DRACHA WAIVES RAID HEARING

Wilmer Dracha, steward of the American Legion Club of Gettysburg, at direction of his attorney, waived a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Friday night on gambling charges and posted $1,000 bail for his appearance in November court.

Dracha was charged by state police following a raid on the American Legion home here Thursday afternoon in which police allege they found "trade" boards, and two slot machines which, the officers said, apparently has not been in use for several years.

Two counts of having the gambling devices on the premises were placed against Dracha as the steward of the club.

Later today charges are scheduled to be brought against an official of the local VFW in connection with the finding there, during a raid at the same time Thursday, of some trade boards, which were also said not to have been in use.

Police made the raids when they were called in by Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board agents.

2 Rescued From Minnesota Mine After Twenty Hours

ELY, Minn. (AP)—The sound of cracking timbers and sliding rock, terrifying to an iron miner, tortured the memory today of two men rescued after a 20-hour entombment 1,300 feet underground.

Albert Marolt, 41, and Toyoy Hill, 35, offered humble thanks to God and to a desperate team of rescuers who pulled them to safety last night after a cave-in sealed them in one of the deepest underground iron mines in the world.

Still imprisoned somewhere near the 15th level of the Oliver Mining Company's Pioneer Mine was a fellow worker, Joe Glinsek. Workers said there was virtually no chance that he was still alive. But fresh crews were sent into the mine today to probe the debris for Glinsek, or his body.

The ordeal was recalled by Marolt, married and the father of four children, through his brother: "We could hear them drilling for us. It was our only hope because we had no chance of escape. The

MAN IS JAILED FOR BURGLARY; SUSPECT HELD

Two more men were taken into custody by state police Friday afternoon and evening as police continued their investigation of burglaries in the area following the capture of a 17-year-old youth early Friday morning as he attempted to flee police at the Cross-Keys Drive-In theater.

Patrick Smith, 21, Brunshtown, was arrested Friday afternoon and jailed on burglary and larceny charges.

Friday night Arthur Lawyer, 24, Hanover, was placed in the jail pending further investigation. Police have up to 72 hours before placing charges if they wish to jail suspects for investigation.

Seven Now Jailed

Arrest of Lawyer and Smith brings to seven the number of Hanover area men jailed in connection with the burglary of a number of places in the Hanover area, East Berlin and Harney.

The group of seven includes five men and two juveniles. The other three men listed Friday as involved were Robert Earl Shultz, 22, Littlestown; Richard Mummert, 26, Hanover, and Bernard Feaser, 21, Brunshtown.

The series of arrests began about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning when two state policemen, on the usual "midnight patrol" out of Gettysburg, made their normal check at the Cross Keys Drive-In and two men ran out of the door at the projection room-lunch room structure at the theater lot. Police caught a 17-year-old youth in the foot race that followed but failed to capture a man with him.

Since then the others have been picked up one by one by State and Hanover police. At the state police sub-station this morning officers said "the investigation is continuing; there may be more."

Armand B. Coigne, 522 Fifth Ave., N. Y., was seriously injured this morning at 9:55 o'clock when he apparently walked in front of a car driven by Mrs. Lillian Armistead, Gettysburg R. 5, near the Battlefield Guide station on the Harrisburg Rd.

Although no spectators saw the accident it apparently occurred when Coigne parked his car on the shoulder of the road before Forman's Motel headed north and crossed the road to hire a guide. After talking to guide William Abel, with whom he intended to tour the battlefield, Coigne started back across the road to his car and darted in front of a red and white Dodge sedan driven by Mrs. Armistead. He was hurled to the road shoulder as the car struck him.

Mary Louise Rummel, R. 4, hearing the cries immediately called Dr. C. G. Crist and the State police who dispatched the Warner Hospital ambulance to the scene. PRESIDENT CAN, IF HE WANTS TO, PICK NOMINEE

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—Even though he doesn't run again, President Eisenhower will be in a position to dominate the Republican convention next year and perhaps handpick the GOP presidential nominee, if he so chooses.

As matters now stand, a candidate seeking the Republican nomination with Eisenhower's opposition would be tilting hopelessly with windmills. But the man given the nod by the President would have an advantage so great that it would appear unassailable.

In the weeks ahead, assuming the President has a normal recovery as it appears he will, the professional politicians will be watching to see:

1. What Eisenhower's decision will be on running again.
2. If he doesn't run, whom will he support as the man to carry on the program he has launched.

Predict Retirement
Eisenhower's close friends in Denver say the best bet is the President will finish out his term and then retire to his Gettysburg farm, making himself available as an "elder statesman."

But some Republican leaders still are hopeful the President will run, and they point to opinions by heart specialists that after his convalescence he should be able to live a normal life.

The flaw in these hopes is that no one can say the life of a President — with the tremendous pressures involved — is a "normal life." The Republican optimism about Eisenhower running again may well be a case of whistling in the dark.

In all the confusion, there are some certainties: The Republicans will depend on Eisenhower in the 1956 campaign in one way or another. If they can't have the man himself as their candidate then they'll run on his record, program and policies.

Nixon, Humphrey
But this means coming up with a nominee who supports the Eisenhower policies and who is supported in turn by Eisenhower. Already the names of Vice President Richard Nixon (age 42), Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey (65), Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother (56), Gov. Goodwin Knight of California (58) and others are being mentioned as possible candidates.

The President chose Nixon as his running mate in 1952. He gave Nixon a place in the inner councils of the executive branch of government which enhanced his prestige and gave him valuable administrative experience.

But, when Eisenhower chose Nixon as his running mate, did he intend that Nixon should be the next GOP candidate? Eisenhower hasn't said as much and until he does, the matter remains in doubt.

SULTAN QUILTS PALACE; FLIES TO EXILE VILLA

RABAT, French Morocco (U)—Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat left his palace today and flew into exile at Tangier, naming a cousin to "look after affairs relative to the crown."

The Sultan quit after holding out for weeks against French pressure to remove him as a preliminary condition to bringing peace and a measure of self-government to this troubled North African protectorate.

Moulay Arafat made a two-hour flight from the capital airport to Tangier in a French military plane. Technically, Tangier is part of the Sultan's domain. Actually, it is under international administration, and neither the Sultan nor the French have any direct authority there. Reports from Tangier said the Sultan was expected to go directly to a villa there.

As expected, the Sultan did not abdicate. Instead, in a vaguely worded statement broadcast by Moroccan radio stations, he said he was leaving his capital for an unlimited period in the interest of peace and unity for the Moroccans.

He declared "we have delegated in a faultless manner, and in writing, our cousin Moulay Abdallah Ben Moulay Abdel Hafid to take up the affairs relative to the crown, conforming to the royal dynastic traditions and in respect for our Moslem religion." Hafid, about 50, is a son of the Sultan who originally signed a treaty with France setting up the Moroccan protectorate.

HORST CHARGES IRON CURTAIN SUPPLY TACTICS

HARRISBURG (U)—The Leader Administration was under charges today by Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, of lowering an "iron curtain" around bidding on public supplies.

The commonwealth's purchasing agent, William D. Thomas, secretary of property and supplies, promptly denied the charge. Horst contended the public "has a right to know everything about the expenditure of millions of dollars for every kind of supplies purchased by the state."

"But as far as the Leader Administration is concerned this information has been labeled 'confidential,'" Horst added.

Thomas countered with a statement in which he said the "state administrative code is quite clear in respect to the availability of information concerning bids."

"Information on bids is public information to anyone, bidder or non-bidder," he said. "This policy has been in effect for many years and will continue to be the policy of the department of property and supplies."

Neither Horst nor Thomas mentioned any specific bids that were withheld. However, the references apparently were to bids on the state purchase of coal which reportedly have been held up pending a top level conference next Wednesday to deal with a new regulation endorsed by Gov. Leader that all coal bids must be accompanied by a statement that payments have been made to the United Mine Workers of America welfare fund, which has the effect of limiting purchase only to coal with a "union label."

Court Releases Curb Jumping Auto Driver

BUFFALO, N.Y. —Emil A. Decina, whose automobile jumped a curb and killed four school girls last March 14, was sentenced yesterday to serve one to two years in Attica state prison.

However, Justice Lee L. Ottaway of State Supreme Court released Decina in $2,500, pending an appeal.

A jury found the driver guilty of criminal negligence. Decina contended he had "blackened out." The prosecution said the 33-year-old aircraft worker had known he suffered from a condition that might render him helpless at any time.

The four girls ranged from 6 to 11 years. They had just left school and were walking along the sidewalk when Decina's car jumped the curb. A fifth girl was injured. Decina was not hurt.

Hope Spurs Navy To Look For Missing 11

MIAMI, Fla. —Faint hope that 11 men who vanished on a hurricane hunter plane may still be alive spurred the navy today to continue its air and surface search of the Caribbean.

An Air Force plane reported that it had sighted what appeared to be two life rafts in the Caribbean. The plane was flying at 8,000 feet and said it could not make a search because it didn't have sufficient fuel.

Navy authorities directing the search said they were "not too en-thusiasmatic" because the area where the life rafts were reported was "not too close" to the area where the missing plane was last re-ported.

The plane was last heard from at 8:33 a.m. (EST) Monday. It reported then that it was entering the wall of winds surrounding the center of hurricane Janet, the sea-son's most vicious storm that swept through the Caribbean and into Mexico, leaving a trail of about 400 dead and thousand home-less.

Court Releases Curb Jumping Auto Driver

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Emil A. Decina, whose automobile jumped a curb and killed four school girls last March 14, was sentenced yesterday to serve one to two years in Attica state prison.

However, Justice Lee L. Ottaway of State Supreme Court released Decina in $2,500, pending an appeal.

A jury found the driver guilty of criminal negligence. Decina contended he had "blackened out." The prosecution said the 33-year-old aircraft worker had known he suffered from a condition that might render him helpless at any time.

The four girls ranged from 6 to 11 years. They had just left school and were walking along the sidewalk when Decina's car jumped the curb. A fifth girl was injured. Decina was not hurt.

Hope Spurs Navy To Look For Missing 11

MIAMI, Fla. — Faint hope that 11 men who vanished on a hurricane hunter plane may still be alive spurred the navy today to continue its air and surface search of the Caribbean.

An Air Force plane reported that it had sighted what appeared to be two life rafts in the Caribbean. The plane was flying at 8,000 feet and said it could not make a search because it didn't have sufficient fuel.

Navy authorities directing the search said they were "not too enthusiastic" because the area where the life rafts were reported was "not too close" to the area where the missing plane was last reported.

The plane was last heard from at 8:33 a.m. (EST) Monday. It reported then that it was entering the wall of winds surrounding the center of hurricane Janet, the season's most vicious storm that swept through the Caribbean and into Mexico, leaving a trail of about 400 dead and thousand homeless.

SULTAN QUILTS PALACE; FLIES TO EXILE VILLA

RABAT, French Morocco — Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat left his palace today and flew into exile at Tangier, naming a cousin to "look after affairs relative to the crown."

The Sultan quit after holding out for weeks against French pressure to remove him as a preliminary condition to bringing peace and a measure of self-government to this troubled North African protectorate.

Moulay Arafat made a two-hour flight from the capital airport to Tangier in a French military plane. Technically, Tangier is part of the Sultan's domain. Actually, it is under international administration, and neither the Sultan nor the French have any direct authority there. Reports from Tangier said the Sultan was expected to go directly to a villa there.

As expected, the Sultan did not abdicate. Instead, in a vaguely worded statement broadcast by Moroccan radio stations, he said he was leaving his capital for an unlimited period in the interest of peace and unity for the Moroccans.

He declared "we have delegated in a faultless manner, and in writing, our cousin Moulay Abdallah Ben Moulay Arafat to take up the affairs relative to the crown, conforming to the royal dynastic traditions and in respect for our Muslim religion." Arafat, about 50, is a son of the Sultan who originally signed a treaty with France setting up the Moroccan protectorate.

HORST CHARGES IRON CURTAIN SUPPLY TACTICS

HARRISBURG — The Leader Administration was under charges today by Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, of lowering an "iron curtain" around bidding on public supplies.

The commonwealth's purchasing agent, William D. Thomas, secretary of property and supplies, promptly denied the charge.

Horst contended the public "has a right to know everything about the expenditure of millions of dollars for every kind of supplies purchased by the state."

"But as far as the Leader Administration is concerned this information has been labeled 'confidential,'" Horst added.

Thomas countered with a statement in which he said the "state administrative code is quite clear in respect to the availability of information concerning bids."

"Information on bids is public information to anyone, bidder or non-bidder," he said. "This policy has been in effect for many years and will continue to be the policy of the department of property and supplies."

Neither Horst nor Thomas mentioned any specific bids that were withheld. However, the references apparently were to bids on the state purchase of coal which reportedly have been held up pending a top level conference next Wednesday to deal with a new regulation endorsed by Gov. Lehigh that all coal bids must be accompanied by a statement that payment has been made to the United Mine Workers of America welfare fund, which has the effect of limiting purchase only to coal with a "union label."

Bulletins

WASHINGTON — Spurred by intelligence reports of Russian progress, American officials have set in motion at least a second project aimed at developing an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of carrying an atomic charge thousands of miles in minutes.

Little or no detail is available on this project, but there is speculation it follows closely the requirements laid down for the original "Atlas" missile research program assigned to the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. about two years ago.

Today's Talk

MY FAVORITE SEASON

I have always been happy that I was born and reared in a part of the country where I could enjoy all of the four seasons in their order. It would be uninspiring and dull to live the entire year in but one season, even though many have had to do so!

I love all four seasons, but my favorites are Spring and Autumn, and I name as my favorite — autumn. It is then that harvests come in, all Nature celebrating in colorful array and with farmers resting from their labors, taking stock on all that spring and summer months have brought about. As we advance in years and reach the autumn of our lives, we grow mellow, are much more considerate of people and become more hopeful. Our faith increases and we have more and more reasons for being thankful. The picture of life expands and we become grateful to God for our endless blessings. Autumn is the storing up season, when we learn and become appreciative of little things and of our friends. Friends stand out as our greatest accumulated wealth.

Autumn becomes a reviewing time, too, when we begin to take inventory and appraise the values of life. It is then that wisdom gets its greatest glow and we become listeners rather than talkers. It is a time of spiritual enrichment and we like to distribute it — we are not so selfish and forgetful of others.

And of what a spectacle of beauty is every autumn! October is outstanding. Just one grand exhibition of colors, in golden tints and strokes of magenta. Everything in wedding garb. All Nature celebrates. The birds leave the memory of their long spring and summer outings behind, and I often think that their songs linger to intermingle with the beauty of Earth, thy of Earth.

How appropriate those words: "What God has wrought!"

Just Folks

TO A LITTLE FELLOW

Little fellow, by and by,
In the years that are to be,
You may sometimes wonder why
Heartache used to trouble me.

You are much too young to know
All that now is taking place.
But when you shall older grow
Disappointment you will face.

Little fellow, this I pray:
When some joy you cannot save,
Cling to faith and steadfast stay.
Life has much a man must brave.

Little fellow, happy be,
Childhood for delight is planned.
All that often troubled me
Some day you will understand.

French Delegates Bolt UN After Rebuff On Algeria

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France was giving serious reappraisal today to her future relations with the United Nations as a result of the rebuff she received when the Assembly decided to take up the stormy Algerian question.

It was uncertain whether France would go so far as to quit the U.N. altogether, but one high French delegate grimly told reporters "we might."

The French delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, stalked out of the Assembly hall last night after the 60-nation group voted 23-27 with five abstentions ruling to skip debate on the issue of Algerian independence.

As a parting shot, Pinay told the Assembly France would consider null and void any action the organization takes on Algeria.

Threaten Membership
"I do not know tomorrow what the consequences of the vote will be on the relations between France and the United Nations," he added.

Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak warned earlier in the debate that if the Assembly overruled the steering committee's recommendation, it would push France to "extreme positions" and make other members think twice about staying in the U.N.

Pinay's announcement that his government would ignore any Assembly decision came as little surprise. It has been France's policy in the past to boycott U.N. debate on colonial questions affecting her.

The vote came after a week of intensive behind the scenes campaigning by the Arab-Asian nations to get an Arab for the explosive independence question.

U. S. Backs France
Informed sources said a break in the usually United Latin American bloc helped kill France's hopes of keeping the item off the agenda.

Six of the Latin American republics voted to overturn the steering committee ruling.

Greece, who lost out in her attempt to get the Cyprus question debated this year, also voted against the colonial powers.

The United States, Britain and the smaller colonial powers lined up with France, as did a number of Latin American and European nations.

When the Algerian question first came up in the steering committee, the United States backed France's stand that Algeria is a part of metropolitan France and thus a domestic issue outside the competence of the U.N. Assembly.

A high French government spokesman said in Paris last night Pinay's reaction to the Assembly vote certainly reflected the official attitude in Paris. He said Premier Edgar Faure probably would convene his cabinet today to study the situation.

State police Cpl. Donald Rabenold said the victim was flying from Washington, D. C., to Haddonfield. The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

The officer said a search failed to uncover any other bodies.

ACTOR KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor James Dean, the surly, brooding Caleb of the movie "East of Eden," was killed last night in the head-on highway crash of his German sports car near Paso Robles, Calif.

The 24-year-old actor, often compared to Marlon Brando, was driving to a road race in Salinas, Calif., location site for the movie which catapulted him to stardom.

Dean, an enthusiastic amateur sports car racer, was the second young Hollywood lea ding man killed recently. Robert Frances, the "Willie Keith" of "The Caine Mutiny," died July 31 in a plane crash at Burbank, Calif.

The California Highway Patrol said a car driven by Donald Turnupseed, 23, of Tulare, turned left off Highway 466 onto Highway 41 and collided almost head-on with Dean's Porsche Spyder. Turnupseed, a student at California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo, suffered minor injuries.

Mechanic Is Injured
Ambulance driver Paul Moreno said the Indiana-born actor was still alive when taken from the wreckage but died enroute to the War Memorial Hospital in Paso Robles. Dean suffered multiple fractures of both arms and internal injuries.

Dean's mechanic, Ralph Wuerlich, 27, of Hollywood, was seriously injured.

Warner Brothers had forbidden their young star to drive the car while working on a movie. He had finished "Giant," the movie version of Edna Ferber's novel only this week.

"Dean was the hottest property we had," a studio spokesman said. "We had big plans for him."

George Stevens, who directed "Giant," said the actor's death was "a great tragedy... He had extraordinary talent."

BREAD SELLS FOR CENT A LOAF
ST. MARYS, Ohio (AP)—A bread price war between two supermarkets reached a climax Friday. The staff of life was selling for a penny a loaf.

The rock-bottom price of a 20-ounce loaf of white bread, which normally retails at 21 cents, was reached after four weeks of alternate price slashing to uphold each store's boast: "We will not be undersold." There was a 10-limit per customer.

The price was four cents a loaf last week, three cents this week — until Friday. Other types of bread were selling at regular prices.

Bread buying has soared. Many residents reported their home freezers are so full of bread they fear they won't have room for the winter's meat.

Japan Parades Its Military Strength

TOKYO (AP)—A resurgent Japan sent wave after wave of troops, tanks and big guns surging across tree-bordered Meiji Plaza today in a proud first anniversary display of its reborn armed strength.

The slowly growing self defense forces, officially created a year ago today, marched solid, undulating ranks of sturdy foot soldiers before the watchful eyes of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama. Diet leaders and U.N. military observers.

Then came engineer equipment, anti-aircraft units, bit 105 and 155 millimeter guns and rumbling light and medium tanks.

Conspicuously absent was Emperor Hirohito or any member of the imperial family.

He will suggest to her subconscious mind that she cannot rise from a chair. There will be $100,000 in cash before her. All she has to do is get up and take the money.

Said Bailey: "If she gets it you can write me at Santa Fe, N. M., care of General Delivery."

The program is NBC's answer to Columbia Broadcasting System's "On the TV program, $100,000 in large denomination bills will be placed on a table before her. She will be instructed by the hypnotist NOT to pick up the money as she is placed in a sleep.

JEWELS, CASH FOUND AT HOME OF PERON'S GIRL

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's new government today was reported planning "inflexible" action against persons who wrongly enriched themselves during the regime of ousted President Juan D. Peron.

The newspaper La Razon said "it has been learned... that the government will be inflexible against those who may have fallen into the crime of unlawful enrichment."

During the past few days the provisional government of President Eduardo Lonardi has released a broadside of charges that many of Peron's henchmen acquired huge fortunes through shady dealings. The government also has reported finding fabulous collections of jewels and other valuables belonging to the fallen dictator.

Federal police released two letters they said Peron wrote to a 16-year-old girl and said they found $23,000 worth of jewelry and $22,000 in cash at the girl's home.

Police said a romance between the 60-year-old Peron and the young Nelida (Nelly) Haydee Rivas began in 1953. Peron's wife, Eva, died July 26, 1952.

One of the letters addressed Nelida as "my dear child" and was signed "your daddy."

In a letter written Sept. 20, apparently from the Paraguayan embassy where Peron took refuge, the one-time strongman said "I will send for you so we two together will have a tranquil life... You are the only thing I have and the only love I have left."

As the probe of Peron's private life continued, unofficial sources said the government has asked the federal administrator of Buenos Aires province to get copies of a certificate of marriage of Peron to Miss Isabel Del Guillen. There have been recent but unconfirmed rumors that Peron married a 19-year-old girl some months ago.

Peron spent his 12th day aboard a Paraguayan gunboat still anchored three miles off Buenos Aires, ostensibly awaiting his exile from the government for his fight to Paraguay.

QUIT FIGHT TO DEPORT BRIDGES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. government, which failed to prove that Harry Bridges was ever a Communist, has given up its 10-year effort to deport the labor leader.

Lynn Gillard, asst. U. S. attorney, said yesterday that the Justice Department had told him not to appeal a federal court decision that favored Bridges.

The government had charged Bridges, an Australian, obtained citizenship fraudulently when he swore in 1945 that he was not and had never been a Communist and party member.

Judge Louis Goodman said at the end of last summer's trial that "my conclusion is that the government has failed to prove the allegations of its complaint as to respondent's alleged membership in the Communist party by clear and convincing evidence."

Bridges, 54, is president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Checkups Increase As People Worry Over Ike
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Heart specialists and general practitioners alike have reported a decided increase in the number of checkups. The Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania reported Friday.

The increase, disclosed in a canvass by the association, was attributed to concern over the heart attack suffered by President Eisenhower.

One specialist said: "I have taken more electro-cardiographs in the last few days than I have done in a long time."

Dr. Samuel Bellet, president of the heart association, asserted: "I have been swamped with calls since Mr. Eisenhower's seizure."

These were described as typical of doctors' comments, reflecting how much more thought the public is now giving to the threat of heart disease.

Johnny Podres 23rd Birthday Victory Over Yankees 8 to 3 And Dodgers Voice Confidence

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sparked by the running of Jackie Robinson, the clouting of Roy Campanella and the pitching of Johnny Podres, the Dodgers were back in high spirits today confident they have a real chance to overtake the New York Yankees and become the first Brooklyn club to win a World Series.

Yesterday's convincing 8-3 triumph over their arch tormentors roused the previously dormant Dodgers.

Team captain Pee Wee Reese sounded the keynote:

"We showed we can beat them," he said. "And there's no reason why we can't beat them in Yankee Stadium, too."

Robinson, who was magnificent with his base running, hitting and fielding shouted defiance at the Yankees.

"Anyone who says we're afraid of the Yankees just doesn't know what he's talking about," he said. "They beat us the first two games simply because they played better baseball."

Erskine Vs. Larsen

This "must" victory, boisterously acclaimed by the majority of the 34,209 spectators, saved the National League champions from almost certain extinction and edged the Yankees' lead to 2 to 1 in the best 4-of-7 series.

Another capacity crowd of some 34,000 was expected to view the fourth game today with Brooklyn's Carl Erskine, a World Series veteran, opposing Don Larsen. Both are righthanders. Erskine, hampered most of the season with a sore elbow, posted an 11-8 season record.

Larsen, a tall, gangling right-hander who relies on fine control, had a 9-2 season record. He won eight games after his recall from Denver of the American Association at the end of July.

Back amid the familiar surroundings of Ebbets Field where they hit 119 home runs in 77 games during the regular season, the Dodgers for the first time showed the awesome power that crushed all National League opposition.

In Favorite Hunt

The sight of the friendly fences undoubtedly sharpened the batting eye of Campanella, heretofore the hitting "goal" of the series. The robust catcher fired the opening salute against Bullet Bob Turley, the Yankee starter and loser, with a first-inning two-run homer.

Campanella, who had gone 0 for 8 in the first two games, added a double and single to pace the Dodgers' 11-hit attack against four Yankee pitchers.

Podres celebrated his 23rd birthday with a sparkling seven-hitter. The six-foot, solidly built left-hander from Winnetka, N.Y., had just one anxious moment. That was in the second inning when the Yankees scored twice to tie the score at 2-2. He was brilliant after that.

"Long Live Podres"

"It was the happiest birthday I ever had," beamed Podres as he was congratulated by his teammates in the winners' dressing room. "Now you have become a man." Reese shouted affectionately to the youngster. "Long live Podres."

For the first time in the series a Yankee starter went sour early when the Brooks banged Turley for two runs in the first and, after the Yankees had tied the score in the top of the second, roared back to get two more and chase Bullet Bob to the showers.

Turley, who finished with a 17-13 season slate, hit a batter, walked two and forced across a run with a pass in the second. Before Tom Morgan could quell the uprising another walk with the bases full sent over another run. Morgan was clubbed for two more tallies in the fourth and, after Johnny Kucks had pitched two scoreless innings, Tom Sturdivant was cut off for two more runs in the seventh.

Two "Incidents"

Two "incidents" highlighted the third game. First was Bill Skowron's knocking the ball out of Campanella's hand in a play at the plate in the second inning. Skowron had doubled after Mickey Mantle's home run and was attempting to score on a single by Phil Rizzuto.

The other "incident" was Robinson's ruse in the seventh inning. Jackie doubled into the left field corner, tricked left fielder Elston Howard into throwing to second by rounding that base, and scampered to third on the "wrong base" throw.

"He sure fooled me," said Howard sheepishly.

Robinson was magnificent. He proved to be just the spark the Dodgers needed.

Had "Pretty Good Day"

"I must admit I had a pretty good day for an old, gray and fat man," he laughed. "It certainly was one of my most enjoyable days."

Stengel pulled a last minute switch in his lineup with his surprise insertion of the ailing Mickey Mantle in center field. The fleet-footed Oklahoman played all the way but Stengel had to shift him from center to right in the second inning. The torn muscle in his right leg hampered his base-running although he thrilled the crowd by blasting a 400-foot home run into the center field stands the first time he came to bat. Thereafter, he bounced out twice and rolled into a double play to kill off a Yankee threat.

SPIESER CLUBS TROY IN FIVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chuck Spieser, a young ex-collegian with an express train wallop, moved out front today as a leading contender for the light-heavyweight championship now owned by Archie Moore.

Spieser, former NCAA light-heavyweight king at Michigan State, slugged Willie Troy all over the place last night to win by a technical knockout at 2:52 of the fifth round of her scheduled 10-round nationally televised bout.

Boxing well, Troy seemed pretty much in command when Spieser got to him. Troy had opened up a deep cut over Spieser's left eye in the second round and gashed it deeper early in the fifth.

But Spieser, bulling forward, got in a solid one-two combination, a hard left hook and a murderous right cross, and Willie was done.

To Troy's credit, he never was knocked down. He went to the canvas three times but on each occasion it was shove by Spieser that floored him.

When Referee Charley Reynolds stopped the fight Troy didn't appear to know where he was.

It was Spieser's 16th victory in 19 professional fights.

AIRBOATS CAN SPEED OVER DEW IN EVERGLADES

By JIM MARTENHOFF

The Associated Press

COOPERSTOWN, Fla. — If you want to travel in the Everglades, it's best to skid.

South Florida's vast wilderness could hold Rhode Island three times over with plenty of room left over for New York City.

It's very wet — for most of the year. It's not a lake, but much of it, except for the comparatively rare high spots, is covered by several inches of water. There are other ways of getting about but the preferred way is to skid in an airboat.

Can Do 60

An airboat, lightly built in the general shape of a scow, has an aircraft engine and propeller mounted on the stern. With a roar and a whoosh of water you skid like a crazy with the short grass hissing under the hull.

Sixty miles an hour is possible over the damp grass in water barely deep enough to get your hand wet. Usually you travel a lot slower. If you hit a submerged log or boulder at the higher speed you wind up with your head in the mud and a hot and heavy engine resting in what is left of your lap. Airboaters usually proceed with some caution.

Airboats are very popular with frog hunters (you've heard of frog legs), bass fishermen, hunters, Everglades explorers, border patrolmen and wildlife officers, and the silent Seminole Indian.

Patchwork Airboats

The Indians build crazy patchwork airboats out of plywood and mouldy planking, and equip them with rusty monstrosities for motors, not fancy, perhaps, but they beat the old one-squaw-power dug-out canoe.

It is not particularly unusual to spot an Indian put-putting along in an antiquated and spitting airboat with a load of speared garfish.

Riding an airboat is a special thrill. Sitting low in the boat, all you see before you is grass and more grass. The pilot will swing like a graceful, skidding turn, traveling almost sideways for several hundred feet before straightening out on a new course.

MARYLAND TO BATTLE BAYLOR THIS EVENING

By TED MEIER

The Associated Press

The Brooklyn Dodgers can't afford to let down against the New York Yankees in their World Series baseball game today. Neither can Maryland against Baylor and Michigan against Michigan State on the gridiron as college football puts on an attractive program of important conference and inter-sectional games.

Maryland, the No. 1 ranked team of the country in the Associated Press poll, risks its lofty perch against Baylor's ambitious Bears in a night game down in Texas at Waco before an expected 50,000 sellout.

Michigan, ranked 2nd nationally and favored to succeed Ohio State as Big Ten champs, opens its conference season against its bitter rival, Michigan State. A sellout 97,299 was assured.

Favor Maryland, Michigan

Both Maryland and Michigan were favored, but Baylor and MSU were in a mood to surprise. In much the same manner Stanford's Indians are determined to bounce back from their Oregon State defeat and upset Ohio State in the national television game of the week.

All-America Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy is the mal neason why 8th-ranked Ohio State is favored, but Chuck Taylor, Stanford Coach, believes his team to spot the 180-pound OSU star. TV-viewers can watch the game from California starting at 4 p.m. (EST) over NBC.

The Texas Longhorns tried for an upset over 9th-ranked Southern California last night at Los Angeles before 61,996, but the Trojans won 19-7.

Texas Ace Injured

José hopes fell when quarterback Joe Clements, the nation's leading passer, was shaken up early in the game and was unable to return.

In other Friday encounters Detroit surprised Wichita 41-0. Miami (Fla.) warmed up for Notre Dame by crushing Florida State 34-0. Chattanooga downed Mississippi Southern 10-0 and Washburn snapped Omaha's 16-game winning streak 19-13.

Big games will be played in every section of the country today. Georgia Tech, ranked 3rd nationally, tangles with Southern Methodist, Notre Dame, No. 4, takes on Indiana; Oklahoma, No. 5, meets a strong Pitt club; Army, No. 6, goes against Penn State; UCLA, No. 7, encounters Washington State, and Texas Christian, No. 10, battles Arkansas in an important Southwest Conference struggle.

Carlisle crushed Hershey 26-0 in the only South Penn Conference football game played Friday evening, two other games being postponed due to inclement weather.

Gettysburg and Chambersburg will play their postponed game Monday evening at 8 o'clock at Chambersburg. Hanover and Middletown will make up their game tonight at 8 o'clock at Middletown.

Yielding but two first downs, Carlisle's unbeaten Thundering Herd outlasted Hershey all the way for its second league victory and third straight of the campaign. Carlisle was unbeaten last year and shared the South Penn title with Mechanicsburg. The Herd is favored to win the honors this season.

In non-conference games last night Mechanicsburg, who comes here next Friday, squeezed past Shippensburg 12-6 while Waynesboro edged Camp Hill 13-7.

2 League Soccer Games On Monday

Two York-Adams County Scholastic Soccer League games, scheduled for Friday, were postponed due to inclement weather and will be played Monday.

East Berlin High will be host to Manchester and Northern Joint will be at Central.

In the lone game played Friday, unbeaten Dover and Spring Grove battled to a scoreless tie.

YOUNG PRO TOPS ROTARY TOURNEY

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Don Fairfield, 29-year old Casey, Ill., pro went into the third round of the $15,000 Long Island Rotary golf tournament today confident he'll hold to his two-stroke lead and win first money of $2,400.

The 6-3 midwesterner, whose winnings in six previous PGA sponsored events this season total only $1,048.33, was one of the many players happy over the improved placement of the cups for the second round over the par 70, 6,550-yard Huntington Crescent Club course.

He turned in a 66 yesterday, which with his first round 71, gave him a 36-hole total of 137. Two strokes back, tied for second, were Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., Gardner Dickinson of Panama City, Fla., George Fazio of Philadelphia, Max Evans of Uca, Mich., and PGA champion Doug Ford, the first round leader.

Heading the loud squawks in the wake of first round scores, the greens committee moved the pins to more central positions. As a result, 31 scores in the second round were equal or better than par compared to 11 for the opening day.

Series Highlights

By ED CORRIGAN

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn shortstop Peeewe Reese thinks he has the answer on how to beat the New York Yankees.

"You've got to give those guys breaking stuff," said the Brook captain today. "You can't do it with fast balls because they just don't let them go by. But pull the string on them and you've got them on the spot. I think we'll beat them this time because we'll give them left handed batters trouble at the Yankee Stadium."

Dodger Manager Walt Alton has practiced the same temper, win or lose.

"We all still think we can win," he said. "We've thought so all along. The Yankee uniform has nothing to do with our losing the first two games. This business of being scared of the Yanks is bunk."

"Now we're more confident than we ever were. We know that no team ever has lost the first two games and won the series. But like everything else there must be a first time."

Alton said he was undecided between Earl Spooner and Don Newcombe to pitch the 5th game tomorrow.

"If Carl Erskine goes all the way today, I'd like to use Spooner," said Alton. "But I'll have him in the bullpen and if he has to relieve, Newcombe will get the assignment."

Yank Manager Casey Stengel admitted the Brooks were tough on their home grounds.

"Those Dodgers are a good ball club," the professor commented. "They're real tough in their own park. They won a lot of games in the National League and I respect them."

Latest report for the Yanks' ailing center fielder, Mickey Mantle: "I'm tired and my leg aches something awful. But I think I might play."

Another hospital report, this one from Hank Bauer.

"I couldn't run if I had to. My leg hurts too much."

Stengel has issued special orders to the Yanks to watch Jackie Robinson on the base paths.

"You've always got to expect something from that man," expounded the professor. "And you can't throw behind him."

Even Billy Martin, the Yankee cheer leader and "assistant manager," as Stengel addresses him, was disconcerted.

He looked over the unfriendly Ebbets Field stands and observed dourly:

"Well, we can't play them all in our own park."

"The way our outfielders have been ailing," said Yank catcher Yogi Berra, "maybe we'd better get this thing over fast. We might not have enough players to finish it out."

COLTS BATTLE LIONS TONIGHT

By JOHN CHANDLER

The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two important Eastern and Western Conference games tonight at Baltimore and Philadelphia touch off the second big week-end of activity in the National Football League.

Baltimore's improved Colts, sparked by All-America fullback Alan Ameche and George Snav, the Oregon passing wizard, get a stern test with the Detroit Lions, defending Western Conference champions.

Washington's surprising Redskins, who upended the world champion Cleveland Browns last Sunday, take on the powerful Eagles at Philadelphia in an important Eastern Conference battle.

There are four games on tap Sunday, with Cleveland meeting the 49ers at San Francisco; the Pittsburgh Steelers and Rams at Los Angeles; New York Giants versus the Cardinals at Chicago; and the Chicago Bears and Packers at Green Bay.

Victory is a must for Detroit to remain in the title contention. Green Bay upped the Lions last week. Doak Walker & Co. are 7 point favorites over Baltimore, who downed the Bears a week ago. Philadelphia, a favorite for the Eastern Conference crown is an 11 point favorite over Washington. The Eagles have two terrific passers in Adrian Burk and Bobby Thomason.

C. OF C. MAKES GRACE CARDS FOR 3 RELIGIONS

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce has turned to prayer. It uses its own funds to prepare grace cards with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish prayers appropriate for use before meals. They are distributed to restaurants, hospitals and private homes.

Earl J. Arnold, secretary, says 40,000 have been sent out since 1953. He hopes it has helped to "make better men as well as a better city."

Hundreds of letters show wide interest in the project. They include requests for cards and thanks for the revival of prayer before meals.

Arnold's inspiration came from Mamaroneck, N. Y. where a local pastor and his family stirred interest when they said grace in a restaurant. A Mamaroneck group was formed to distribute grace cards and the Waltham Chamber of Commerce followed suit.

Now a large restaurant chain has printed its own place mats with the prayers on them, and a manufacturer has started supplying grace napkins.

Arnold will send a sample of the card to anyone who writes for it. Many organizations print their own cards to distribute to employees, at dinners, or include with presents.

"I don't know how many people we've inspired," Arnold says. "But I do feel we have played a part in the great nationwide return to religion and things spiritual."

These are the three prayers on the cards:

Catholic
"Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty through Christ our Lord. Amen."

Jewish
"Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

Protestant
"Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' name. Amen."

Podres celebrated his 23rd birthday with a sparkling seven-hitter. The six-foot, solidly built left-hander from Winterville, N.Y., had just one anxious moment. That was in the second inning when the Yankees scored twice to tie the score at 2-2. He was brilliant after that.

"Long Live Podres"

"It was the happiest birthday I ever had," beamed Podres as he was congratulated by his teammates in the winners' dressing room. "Now you have become a man," Reese shouted affectionately to the youngster. "Long live Podres."

For the first time in the series a Yankee starter went sour early when the Brooks banged Turley for two runs in the first and, after the Yankees had tied the score in the top of the second, roared back to get two more and chase Bullet Bob to the showers.

Turley, who finished with a 17-13 season slate, hit a batter, walked two and forced across a run with a pass in the second. Before Tom Morgan could quell the uprising another walk with the bases full sent over another run. Morgan was clubbed for two more tallies in the fourth and, after Johnny Kucks had pitched two scoreless innings, Tom Sturdivant was cuffed for two more runs in the seventh.

Two "Incidents"

Two "incidents" highlighted the third game. First was Bill Skowron's knocking the ball out of Campanella's hand in a play at the plate in the second inning. Skowron had doubled after Mickey Mantle's home run and was attempting to score on a single by Phil Rizzuto.

The other "incident" was Robinson's ruse in the seventh inning. Jackie doubled into the left field corner, tricked left fielder Elston Howard into throwing to second by rounding that bag, and steamed to third on the "wrong base" throw.

"He sure fooled me," said Howard sheepishly.

Robinson was magnificent. He proved to be just the spark the Dodgers needed.

Had "Pretty Good Day"

"I must admit I had a pretty good day for an old, gray and fat man," he laughed. "It certainly was one of my most enjoyable days."

Stengel pulled a last minute switch in his lineup with his surprise insertion of the ailing Mickey Mantle in center field. The fleet-footed Oklahoman played all the way but Stengel had to shift him from center to right in the second inning. The torn muscle in his right leg hampered his base-running although he thrilled the crowd by blasting a 409-foot home run into the center field stands the first time he came to bat. Thereafter, he bounced out twice and rolled into a double play to kill off a Yankee threat.

SPIESER CLUBS TROY IN FIVE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chuck Spieser, a young ex-collegian with an express train wallop, moved out front today as a leading contender for the light-heavyweight championship now owned by Archie Moore.

Spieser, former NCAA light-heavyweight king at Michigan State, slugged Willie Troy all over the place last night to win by a technical knockout at 2:52 of the fifth round of his scheduled 10-round nationally televised bout.

Boxing well, Troy seemed pretty much in command when Spieser got to him. Troy had opened up a deep cut over Spieser's left eye in the second round and gashed it deeper early in the fifth.

But Spieser, bulging forward, got in a solid one-two combination, a hard left hook and a murderous right cross, and Willie was done. To Troy's credit, he never was knocked down. He went to the canvas three times but on each occasion it was shove by Spieser that floored him.

When Referee Charley Reynolds stopped the fight Troy didn't appear to know where he was.

It was Spieser's 16th victory in 19 professional fights.

AIRBOATS CAN SPEED OVER DEW IN EVERGLADES

By JIM MARTENHOFF

The Associated Press
COOPERSTOWN, Fla. — If you want to travel in the Everglades, it's best to skid.

South Florida's vast wilderness could hold Rhode Island three times, with plenty of room left over for New York City.

It's very wet — for most of the year. It's not a lake, but much of it, except for the comparatively rare high spots, is covered by several inches of water. There are other ways of getting about but the preferred way is to skid in an airboat.

Can Do 60

An airboat, lightly built in the general shape of a scow, has an aircraft engine and propeller mounted on the stern. With a roar and a whosh of water you skid like a crazy with the short grass hissing under the hull.

Sixty miles an hour is possible over the damp grass in water barely deep enough to get your hand wet. Usually you travel a lot slower. If you hit a submerged log or boulder at the higher speed you wind up with your head in the mud and a hot and heavy engine resting in what is left of your lap. Airboaters usually proceed with some caution.

Airboats are very popular with frog hunters (you've heard of frog legs), bass fishermen, hunters, Everglades explorers, border patrolmen and wildlife officers, and the silent Seminole Indian.

Patchwork Airboats

The Indians build crazy patchwork airboats out of plywood and mouldy planking, and equip them with rusty monstrosities for motors, not fancy, perhaps, but they beat the old one-squaw-power dug-out canoe.

It is not particularly unusual to spot an Indian put-putting along in an antiquated and sputtering airboat with a load of speared garfish.

Riding an airboat is a special thrill. Sitting low in the boat, all you see before you is grass and more grass. The pilot will swing his air rudder and the boat will make a graceful, skidding turn, traveling almost sideways for several hundred feet before straightening out on a new course.

MARYLAND TO BATTLE BAYLOR THIS EVENING

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press

The Brooklyn Dodgers can't afford to let down against the New York Yankees in their World Series baseball game today. Neither can Maryland against Baylor and Michigan against Michigan State on the gridiron as college football puts on an attractive program of important conference and intersectional games.

Maryland, the No. 1 ranked team of the country in the Associated Press poll, risks its lofty perch against Baylor's ambitious Bears in a night game down in Texas at Waco before an expected 50,000 sellout.

Michigan, ranked 2nd nationally and favored to succeed Ohio State as Big Ten champs, opens its conference season against its bitter rival, Michigan State. A sellout 97,239 was assured.

Favor Maryland, Michigan

Both Maryland and Michigan were favored, but Baylor and MSU were in a mood to surprise. In much the same manner Stanford's Indians are determined to bounce back from their Oregon State defeat and upset Ohio State in the national television game of the week.

All-America Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy is the mal neason why 8th-ranked Ohio State is favored, but Chuck Taylor, Stanford Coach, believes his team can stop the 180-pound OSU star. TV-viewers can watch the game from California starting at 4 p.m. (EST) over NBC.

The Texas Longhorns tried for an upset over 9th-ranked Southern California last night at Los Angeles before 61,996, but the Trojans won 19-7.

Texas Ace Injured

Texas' hopes fell when quarterback Joe Clements, the nation's leading passer, was shaken up early in the game and was unable to return.

In other Friday encounters Detroit surprised Wichita 41-0, Miami (Fla.) warmed up for Notre Dame by crushing Florida State 34-0, Chattanooga downed Mississippi Southern 10-0 and Washburn snapped Omaha's 16-game winning streak 19-13.

Big games will be played in every section of the country today. Georgia Tech, ranked 3rd nationally, tangles with Southern Methodist, Notre Dame, No. 4, meets a strong Pitt club; Army, No. 6, goes against Penn State; UCLA, No. 7, encounters Washington State, and Texas Christian, No. 10, battles Arkansas in an important Southwest Conference struggle.

You at breakneck speed. You close your eyes as you head straight for a deep, dry patch of grass and weeds, anticipating a shuddering crash.

It's this sea-going motion of dipping and swaying, combined with the slowly sliding turns, that produces in the unaccustomed airboat rider a feeling that does not go at all with penetrating America's last wilderness.

You get seasick.

2 League Soccer Games On Monday

Two York-Adams County Scholastic Soccer League games, scheduled for Friday, were postponed due to inclement weather and will be played Monday.

In the lone game played Friday, unbeaten Dover and Spring Grove battled to a scoreless tie.

YOUNG PRO TOPS ROTARY TOURNNEY

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Don Fairfield, 29-year old Casey, Ill., pro went into the third round of the $15,000 Long Island Rotary golf tournament today confident he'll hold his two-stroke lead and win first money of $2,400.

The 6-3 midwesterner, whose winnings in six previous PGA sponsored events this season total only $1,048.33, was one of the many players happy over the improved placement of the cups for the second round over the par 70, 6,550-yard Huntington Crescent Club course.

He turned in a 66 yesterday, which with his first round 71, gave him a 36-hole total of 137. Two strokes back, tied for second, were Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., Gardner Dickinson of Panama City, Fla., George Fazio of Philadelphia, Max Evans of Utica, Mich., and PGA champion Doug Ford, the first round leader.

Heading the loud squawks in the wake of first round scores, the greens committee moved the pins to more central positions. As a result, 31 scores in the second round were equal or better than par compared to 11 for the opening day.

Series Highlights

By ED CORRIGAN

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn short-stop Peeewe Reese thinks he has the answer on how to beat the New York Yankees.

"You've got to give those guys breaking stuff," said the Brook captain today. "You can't do it with fast balls because they just don't let them go by. But pull the string on them, and you've got them on the spot. I think we'll beat them this time because we'll give them their left handed batters trouble at the Yankee Stadium."

Dodger Manager Walt Alton has practically the same temper, win or lose.

"We all still think we can win," he said. "We've thought so all along. The Yankee uniform has nothing to do with our losing the first two games. This business of being scared of the Yanks is bunk."

"Now we're more confident than we ever were. We know that no team ever has lost the first two games and won the series. But like everything else there must be a first time."

Alton said he was undecided between Karl Spooner and Don Newcombe to pitch the 5th game tomorrow.

"If Carl Erskine goes all the way today, I'd like to use Spooner," said Alton. "But I'll have him in the bullpen and if he has to relieve, Newcombe will get the assignment."

Yank Manager Casey Stengel admitted the Brooks were tough on their home grounds.

"Those Dodgers are a good ball club," the professor commented. "They're real tough in their own park. They won a lot of games in the National League and I respect them."

Latest report for the Yanks' ailing center fielder, Mickey Mantle: "I'm tired and my leg aches something awful. But I think I might play."

Another hospital report, this one from Hank Bauer.

"I couldn't run if I had to. My leg hurts too much."

Stengel has issued special orders to the Yanks to watch Jackie Robinson on the base paths.

"You've always got to expect something from that man," expounded the professor. "And you can't throw behind him."

Even Billy Martin, the Yankee cheer leader and "assistant manager," as Stengel addresses him, was disconcerted.

He looked out over the unfriendly Ebbets Field stands and observed dourly:

"Well, we can't play them all in our own park."

"The way our outfielders have been ailing," said Yank catcher Yogi Berra, "maybe we'd better get this thing over fast. We might not have enough players to finish it out."

C. OF C. MAKES GRACE CARDS FOR 3 RELIGIONS

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — The

Chamber of Commerce has turned to prayer. It uses its own funds to prepare grace cards with Catholic, Protestant and Jewish prayers appropriate for use before meals. They are distributed to restaurants, hospitals and private homes.

Earl J. Arnold, secretary, says 40,000 have been sent out since 1953. He hopes it has helped to "make better men as well as a better city."

Hundreds of letters show wide interest in the project. They include requests for cards and thanks for the revival of prayer before meals.

Arnold's inspiration came from Mamaroneck, N. Y., where a local pastor and his family stirred interest when they said grace in a restaurant. A Mamaroneck group was formed to distribute grace cards and the Waltham Chamber of Commerce followed suit.

Now a large restaurant chain has printed its own place mats with the prayers on them, and a manufacturer has started supplying grace napkins.

Arnold will send a sample of the card to anyone who writes for it. Many organizations print their own cards to distribute to employees, at dinners, or include with presents.

"I don't know how many people we've inspired," Arnold says. "But I do feel we have played a part in the great nationwide return to religion and things spiritual."

These are the three prayers on the cards:

Catholic
"Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty through Christ our Lord, Amen."

Jewish
"Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

Protestant
"Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' name. Amen."

Red China Colleges Train Specialists

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping radio says 50,000 young specialists, one-fourth of them women, have been graduated from Red China's colleges and universities this summer. That is 10,000 more than a year ago.

Ting Hua, assistant minister of higher education, was quoted as saying the number "still falls short of the needs of the large-scale construction under way in different parts of China."

Girl Finds Chasing Mice Is Valuable

ELKIN, N. C. (AP) — Curiosity paid off for 4-year-old Janice Marshall. While playing in a smokehouse at her home, she saw a mouse run into a hole in one of the logs. She gouged at the hole and uncovered a small tobacco sack containing some money but couldn't get the sack out. Her father sawed the log in two and found $160 in old U. S. currency.

Marshall doesn't know how the money got there. He plans to redeem it and buy U. S. savings bonds in Janice's name.

Today's Talk
MY FAVORITE SEASON
I have always been happy that I was born and reared in a part of the country where I could enjoy all of the four seasons in their order. It would be uninspiring and dull to live the entire year in but one season, even though many have had to do so.
I love all four seasons, but my favorites are Spring and Autumn, and I name as my favorite—autumn. It is then that harvests come in all Nature celebrating in colorful array and with farmers reaping from their labors, taking stock on all that spring and summer months have brought about.
As we advance in years and reach the autumn of our lives, we grow mellow, are much more considerate of people and become more hopeful. Our faith increases and we have more and more reasons for being thankful. The picture of life expands and we become grateful to God for our endless blessings. Autumn is the stirring up season, when we learn and become appreciative of little things and of our friends. Friends stand out as our greatest accumulated wealth.
Autumn becomes a reviewing time, too, when we begin to take inventory and appraise the values of life. It is then that wisdom gets its greatest glow and we become listeners rather than talkers. It is a time of spiritual enrichment and we like to distribute it—we are not so selfish and forgetful of others.
And of what a spectacle of beauty is every autumn! October is outstanding. Just one grand exhibition of colors, in golden tints and strokes of magenta. Everything in wedding garb. All Nature celebrates. The birds leave the memory of their long spring and summer outings behind, and I often think that their songs linger to intermingle with the beauty of Earth.

How appropriate those words: "What God has wrought!" Protected, 1955, George Matthew Adams Service

TO A LITTLE FELLOW
Little fellow, by and by.
In the years that are to be.
You may sometimes wonder why
Heartache used to trouble me.
You are much too young to know
All that now is taking place.
But when you shall older grow
Disappointment you will face.
Little fellow, this I pray:
When some day you cannot save,
Cling to faith and steadfast stay.
Life has much a man must brave.
Little fellow, happy be.
Childhood for delight is planned.
All that often troubled me
Some day you will understand.

French Delegates Bolt UN After Rebuff On Algeria

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France was giving serious reappraisal today to her future relations with the United Nations as a result of the rebuff she received when the Assembly decided to take up the stormy Algerian question.
It was uncertain whether France would go so far as to quit the U.N. altogether, but one half French delegate grimly told reporters "we might."

The French delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, stalked out of the Assembly hall last night after the 60-nation group voted 28-27 with five abstentions ruling to skip debate on the issue of Algerian independence.
As a parting shot, Pinay told the Assembly France would consider null and void any action the organization takes on Algeria.

Threaten Membership
"I do not know tomorrow what the consequences of the vote will be on the relations between France and the United Nations," he added. Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak warned earlier in the debate that if the Assembly overturned the steering committee's recommendation, it would push France to "extreme positions" and make other members think twice about staying in the U.N.

Pinay's announcement that his government would ignore any Assembly decision came as little surprise. It has been France's policy in the past to boycott U.N. debate on colonial questions affecting her. The vote came after a week of intensive behind the scenes campaigning by the Arab-Asian nations to get an airing for the explosive independence question.

U.S. Backs France
Informed sources said a break in the usually United Latin American bloc helped kill France's hopes of keeping the item off the agenda. Six of the Latin American republics voted to overturn the steering committee ruling.
Greece, who lost out in her attempt to get the Cyprus question debated this year, also voted against the colonial powers.

The United States, Britain and the smaller colonial powers lined up with France as did a number of Latin American and European nations.
When the Algerian question first came up in the steering committee, the United States backed France's stand that Algeria is a part of metropolitan France and thus a domestic issue outside the competence of the U.N. Assembly.

A high French government spokesman said in Paris last night Pinay's reaction to the Assembly vote certainly reflected the official attitude in Paris. He said Premier Edgar Faure probably would convene his cabinet today to study the situation.

Japan Parades Its Military Strength

TOKYO (AP)—A resurgent Japan sent wave after wave of troops, tanks and big guns surging across tree-bordered Meiji Plaza today in a proud first anniversary display of its reborn armed strength.
The slowly growing self defense forces, officially created a year ago today, marched solid, undulating ranks of sturdy foot soldiers before the watchful eyes of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama, Diet leaders and U.N. military observers.

Then came engineer equipment, anti-aircraft units, but 105 and 155 millimeter guns and rumbling light and medium tanks.
Conspicuously absent was Emperor Hirohito or any member of the imperial family.

OFFER $100,000 TO BREAK SPELL
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A University of Southern California freshman would get $100,000 from the National Broadcasting Co. next Friday if she can break out of a hypnotic spell induced by Arthur Allen.

Pat Morris, 19-year-old daughter of an aircraft executive, will be under escort until next Friday, when she will appear on Jack Bailey's "Truth or Consequences" show as a subject for hypnotist Allen.

He will suggest to her subconscious mind that she cannot rise from a chair. There will be $100,000 in cash before her. All she has to do is get up and take the money.
Said Bailey: "If she gets it you can write me at Santa Fe, N. M., care of General Delivery."

The program is NBC's answer to Columbia Broadcasting System's On the TV program, $100,000 in large denomination bills will be placed on a table before her. She will be instructed by the hypnotist NOT to pick up the money as she is placed in a sleep.

QUIT FIGHT TO DEPORT BRIDGES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. government, which failed to prove that Harry Bridges was ever a Communist, has given up its 10-year effort to deport the labor leader.
Lynn Gillard, best U.S. attorney, said yesterday that the Justice Department had told him not to appeal a federal court decision that favored Bridges.

The government had charged Bridges, an Australian, obtained citizenship fraudulently when he swore in 1945 that he was not and had never been a Communist party member.
Judge Louis Goodman said at the end of last summer's trial that "my conclusion is that the government has failed to prove the allegations of its complaint as to respondent's alleged membership in the Communist party by clear and convincing evidence."

Bridges, 54, is president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.
During the past few days the provisional government of President Eduardo Lonardi has released a broadside of charges that many of Peron's henchmen acquired huge fortunes through shady dealings. The government also has reported finding fabulous collections of jewels and other valuables belonging to the fallen dictator.

Federal police released two letters they said Peron wrote to a 16-year-old girl and said they found $23,000 worth of jewelry and $22,000 in cash at the girl's home.
Police said a romance between the 60-year-old Peron and the young Nelida (Nelly) Haydee Rivas began in 1953. Peron's wife, Eva, died July 26, 1952.

One of the letters addressed Nelida as "my dear child" and was signed "your daddy."
In a letter written Sept. 20, apparently from the Paraguayan embassy where Peron took refuge, the one-time strongman said "I will send for you so we two together will have a tranquil life... You are the only thing I have and the only love I have left..."

As the probe of Peron's private life continued, unofficial sources said the government has asked the federal administrator of Buenos Aires province to get copies of a certificate of marriage of Peron to Miss Isabel Del Guillen. There have been recurrent but unconfirmed rumors that Peron married a 19-year-old girl some months ago.

Peron spent his 12th day aboard a Paraguayan gunboat still anchored three miles off Buenos Aires, ostensibly awaiting a green light from the government for his exile to Paraguay.

Button Selection Of Gears Is Coming Into Automotive Picture; Anticipated Soon

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Some people will tell you that the automobile crank is still very much in the picture.

Pre-selecting Gears
Now that automatic transmissions think for us and go through the various changes which we formerly had to do ourselves it may seem a little late to learn about pre-selecting gears, but with rumors of button selection of gears coming into the picture again perhaps it will be more timely than we think. To pre-select a gear means to place the transmission gears into a combination which will be needed next, but before the actual need. If you have a manual gear shift car handy you can pre-select by pressing down the clutch pedal and moving the shift lever from high to second while the car is approaching a corner. After you have turned the corner the car will be in second gear for a quick pick-up. All you have to do after turning is to feed gas and engage the clutch.

This is pre-selection in its simplest form. There are ways in which it can help a skillful driver obtain special effects. It is always fast because the time element of the shifting is eliminated, or more accurately it is moved ahead to a period where it combines with some other movement of the car or some other combination of gears. Many drivers look forward to a combination arrangement whereby they can have choice of automatic or push button shifting any time they prefer one or the other while operating the car.

Fans On A Rampage
That tapping noise under the hood could be a sign that the fan is striking something. I have heard of several similar cases lately, and one of them wasn't caught in time. As a result the blades of the fan tore into the radiator, causing not only a breakdown on a hot day but considerable radiator damage. How the fan gets into a position to do damage isn't always clear. In the case of the radiator damage the owner believes that he threw things out of line when he drove over a roadway marker rock. In another instance the fan bracket became loose.

Keeping Up With Cars
Publishers of the latest edition of my CAR CARE book have made it easy to spot by changing the cover from yellow to white. It is also marked "new and revised" so that you can't miss. One of the new chapters is "Out the Exhaust" in which I discuss the newer ways of taking care of the muffler's needs. There are illustrations of the dual exhaust systems as well as of tri-flow mufflers and the resonators. "Chasing the Birdies" is the title of a new chapter which tells in picture form how to track down car squeaks.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"It is surprising how many car troubles cease with a simple tune-up of the engine. One that frequently surprises the motorist is elimination of clutch chatter, and drive line shake as well. The engine has to be smooth for smooth transmission of power."

"A well tuned engine will provide better low speed operation in high gear, with less chance for worn universal joints to chatter. It will keep the automatic transmission operating better, and give better compression braking when going downhill. If the engine is in the pink there will be no 'after firing.'"

Told By Dip-Stick
That dip stick which tells you whether the engine has sufficient oil can be quite an interesting clue to a number of conditions. If, for instance, there is water in the oil from a cylinder head gasket leak the beads of moisture will sparkle when you hold the wet stick up to the light. Some of the detergents now used in oils may leave a scum just above the oil line, but this is nothing to worry about. Premium detergent oils will look dirty when viewed on the dip stick, but this simply indicates that the oil is doing its special work of picking organic deposits from the engine's parts and is carrying this in suspension until an oil change.

Something To Remember
Whenever you can avoid it don't park the car on uneven ground. On the level the carburetor's float is not in a position to be disturbed. You can count on a quick start of the engine, without that flooding which so often happens when the car's position has been such as to throw the float off balance.

All About Automatics
Anyone interested in following the automatic transmission picture will want to have as a guide a copy of the new book, "Automatic Transmissions." It is by the staff of the Commercial Trades Institute of Chicago, and is published by the McGraw-Hill Book Company of New York, Toronto and London. In addition to a complete story on each of the currently used automatic drives there is a complete story on the fundamentals of hydraulics, the fluid coupling, the torque converter and the planetary systems. Trouble shooting these complex devices is also given considerable detailed attention, with numerous pictures and diagrams. Where exact information about a transmission is lacking here's the book to provide it in black and white.

Working In Safety
That teen-age lad who likes to putter around the car may not listen to advice but at least try to warn him against the practice of doing work under the car or around the wheels while the car is on uneven ground. Even if it is in gear and the hand brake is set there still is danger of the car moving, particularly if it has been jacked up. One father wisely encourages his son to do such work at the corner filling station where the car can be raised on the hydraulic lift. He slips the boy an extra bill now and again to pay for use of the station's facilities. It is a good investment any way you look at it.

Keeping Them Braking
Dropping into a brake shop for a little adjustment last month I had an opportunity to check on the investment the owner had in special equipment quite aside from the years he had spent learning all the ramifications of brake service. The special brake shoe arc grinder cost him around $250. Many of the cars he services have bonded brake lining, and the special outfit for this represented an investment of $200. He was using an outfit for the more conventional riveted brake lining, and that cost him another $200. That new brake drum lathe represents an investment of $600.

It certainly helps us to understand why millions of cars can make those amazingly efficient stops day after day in our modern traffic.

Q. There's an odd noise in the engine of my car which disappears after it has warmed up. Sounds like something loose, but can't seem to locate the cause. J. L. F.
A. This sounds like a loose manifold heat control valve. I would put up with this awhile longer because these valves usually become too tight and have to be freed up. The rattling should stop after a few additional thousand miles of driving.

Q. When I kick down on the accelerator pedal to get back into third gear from overdrive it seems to me that the engine cuts out for an instant. Is this possible or do I merely imagine it? Wm. L. Jr.
A. The ignition does cease for an instant so that the shift back to third gear can be made.

Q. I am planning to have the engine of my car overhauled. We will use new rings, of course, and I suppose a few new valves. Should

FORD MOTOR CO. PLANS BILLION '56 EXPANSION

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP)—Henry Ford II, scoffing at the "nervous Nellies" who fear rapid business booms, says the Ford Motor Co. plans a record half-billion dollar expansion program for 1956.

This sum, the auto manufacturer I make sure of the available supply of new pistons too. The car is an old one. H. R.

A. The present pistons can be resized by one of several methods. Q. I notice that the transmission and rear-end lubricants in my car need not be changed for the different seasons. A friend of mine goes against this rule and has the lube changed. Who's right? H. L. B.
A. While he may be having the lube changes the people who do his work are not changing the grade of lubricant, but are merely putting in fresh lube. This is most effective in helping to keep the gears clean and thus to prevent wear. However, it is considered sufficient to make such a change once a year, although the lube level should be checked in these important units every time the chassis is greased.

Q. There is oil leaking from the bottom of the clutch housing on my car. I notice it on the garage floor. Have carefully checked to make certain the oil isn't leaking down over the top of the case from the engine. T. L.

A. This is evidence that oil is leaking into the clutch house past the rear main engine bearing. It may be due to wear on this particular bearing but is more likely due to trouble with the oil retainer. In some cases it has been found helpful to use additives in with the oil to help clean out accumulated sludge, but this won't work in all cases because there is difference in the manner of controlling the oil at the rear of the engine crankshaft.

Q. The front tires of my car are showing excessive wear. I do not under or over-inflate them. The front end has been given an alignment check and is all right. There is no rear-end sagging of the car from weak springs. Have you any suggestion? S. M. McV.
A. I notice you did not mention any check on the front wheel bearings which may be worn.

Q. There is a most annoying and disturbing grinding noise in the rear of my car. It sounds like the rumble from snow tires. E. H.
A. This is a sign that one of the rear wheel bearings has gone bad. It will have to be replaced.

Donor Gives 30 Acres To Pa. Flood Victims

EAST STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 30-acre tract of land has been donated for use by August flood victims who plan to build new homes, officials announced Thursday. The donor asked to remain anonymous.

Chief Burgess Jesse S. Flory said the land is valued at more than $15,000. It will be divided into 63 lots, each 75 by 130 feet, which will be given to those who lost their homes in the hurricane Diane disaster.

said Thursday night, is believed the greatest amount spent in a single year by a corporation of Ford's size.

Citing the program as proof of "our convictions about the future of the American economy," Ford said the money would come from earnings and not borrowing.

Ford said American business should get ready for a "major breakthrough" into a "higher plateau of production and consumption."

Ford said large companies are no longer owned by a few individuals but thousands of persons are able to own small parts of them through purchase of their stock.

"We might have some stock ourselves soon," he added.

"Unplanned Scarcity"
The company's voting stock now is held by members of the Ford family and the Ford Foundation. Ford made his remarks in a speech at a dinner at nearby Ramsey, following dedication of a new assembly plant here.

A condition of what he called "unplanned scarcity" exists because, Ford said, "we can't produce adequately to meet the demands of this great American market."

"In this situation," Ford said, "let's do whatever is necessary to build this boom into our economic system."

Today's economic high, he declared, can be "tomorrow's norm."

Then he rapped the "nervous Nellies" who, he said, "have cried out that we were moving ahead too fast."

Ford told the dinner guests he thought that with "reasonable and sound planning, we can hardly build too fast. Just to keep from losing we've got to move ahead."

TRUSTEES MAKE CHOICE; POSTS, POLITICAL VIEW

HARRISBURG (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro says six members of the board of trustees at Wernersville State Hospital can retain their posts if they "separate themselves from their official political positions."

The secretary said Thursday he had not yet accepted a requested resignation from Mrs. W. W. Livingston, Robeson, and added he will delay asking five other members of the board to resign because of political activities.

Mrs. Livingston is a member of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Shapiro said a check was made of five trustees on the Wernersville board, four Democrats and a Republican.

These were reported to be Robert R. Gerhart Jr., Robeson, newly elected board member; Frank R. Katrinak, Reading; William A. Keller; and Ira E. Fasnacht, Ephrata, all Democrats, and Earl D. Neidig, West Reading, a Republican.

Shapiro said his checkup left him "tremendously impressed with the calibre of these people and with their reputation for public spirit in community interests," adding:

"I would consider it a pleasure for me to be able to retain each and every one of them on this board and this I would do if the members of the board would separate themselves from their official political positions."

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Tave Stanley, 41, was killed near West Grove Thursday by a tractor trailer truck when she tried to rescue her son, Ralph, 4, from the oncoming vehicle. The youngster was reported in serious condition with head and body injuries.

Wild Typhoon Wrecks Island; Floods Grow

TOKYO (AP)—A big typhoon roared up the Sea of Japan Friday, a little spent after wrecking the southern island of Kyushu but still a serious threat to the northern islands.

Police said the storm left 20 dead, 10 missing, 106 injured and 120 ships—mostly fishing craft, lost, in the churning seas.

Mountainous Kyushu took some of the wildness from the typhoon, which had blasted Iwo Jima earlier with 172 m.p.h. winds. Weathermen said its maximum gusts were down to about 78 m.p.h.

Police reported almost 1,000 houses destroyed and almost 1,500 seriously damaged on Kyushu. The threat of floods grew after rains ranging up to 16 inches.

Says Cities, Nations Cannot Be Isolated

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII told 700 mayors from around the world Friday that neither cities nor nations "can pretend to remain isolated" in the modern world.

He urged the mayors to promote more active exchanges with cities in other countries to help along the present trend toward more closely uniting nations.

The 73-year-old Pope returned to the Vatican from his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo for the 35-minute audience with delegates to the 12th International Congress of Local Authorities. Seven hundred delegates and 500 members of their families heard the Pope welcome them—in French. More than a dozen U. S. city officials were in the audience.

He said they plan to be married in a civil ceremony Oct. 6 at Monroe, N. Y.

Robinson, 34, a native of Paris, Tex., was previously married to Elaine Elder. They were divorced in Florida in 1952. It will be their first marriage for Miss Farlow, 23. She was born in Pittsburgh.

Button Selection Of Gears Is Coming Into Automotive Picture; Anticipated Soon

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

Some people will tell you that the automobile crank is still very much in the picture.

Pre-selecting Gears

Now that automatic transmissions think for us and go through the various changes which we formerly had to do ourselves it may seem a little late to learn about pre-selecting gears, but with rumors of button selection of gears coming into the picture again perhaps it will be more timely than we think. To pre-select a gear means to place the transmission gears into a combination which will be needed next, but before the actual need. If you have a manual gear shift handy you can pre-select by pressing down the clutch pedal and moving the shift lever from high to second while the car is approaching a corner. After you have turned the corner the car will be in second gear for a quick pick-up. All you have to do after turning is to feed gas and engage the clutch.

This is pre-selection in its simplest form. There are ways in which it can help a skillful driver obtain special effects. It is always fast because the time element of the shifting is eliminated, or more accurately it is moved ahead to a period where it combines with some other movement of the car or some other combination of gears. Many drivers look forward to a combination arrangement whereby they can have choice of automatic or push button shifting any time they prefer one or the other while operating the car.

Fans On A Rampage

That tapping noise under the hood could be a sign that the fan is striking something. I have heard of several similar cases lately, and one of them wasn't caught in time. As a result the blades of the fan tore into the radiator, causing not only a breakdown on a hot day but considerable radiator damage. How the fan gets into a position to do damage isn't always clear. In the case of the radiator dam-

Something To Remember

Whenever you can avoid it don't park the car on uneven ground. On the level the carburetor's float is not in a position to be disturbed. You can count on a quicker start of the engine, without that flooding which so often happens when the car's position has been such as to throw the float off balance.

FORD MOTOR CO. PLANS BILLION '56 EXPANSION

MAHWAH, N. J. (AP)—Henry Ford II, scoffing at the "nervous Nellies" who fear rapid business booms, says the Ford Motor Co. plans a record half-billion dollar expansion program for 1956.

This sum, the auto manufacturer will want to have as a guide a copy of the new book, "Automatic Transmissions." It is by the staff of the Commercial Trades Institute of Chicago, and is published by the McGraw-Hill Book Company of New York, Toronto and London.

In addition to a complete story on each of the currently used automatic drives, there is a complete story on the fundamentals of hydraulics, the fluid coupling, the torque converter and the planetary systems. Trouble shooting these complex devices is also given considerable detailed attention, with numerous pictures and diagrams. Where exact information about a transmission is lacking here's the book to provide it in black and white.

Working In Safety

That teenage lad who likes to putter around the car may not listen to advice but at least try to warn him against the practice of doing work under the car or around the wheels while the car is on uneven ground. Even if it is in gear and the hand brake is set there still is danger of the car moving, particularly if it has been jacked up. One father wisely encourages his son to do such work at the corner filling station where the car can be raised on the hydraulic lift. He slips the boy an extra bill now and again to pay for use of the station's facilities. It is a good investment any way you look at it.

Keeping Them Braking

Drooping into a brake shop for a little adjustment last month I had an opportunity to check on the investment the owner had in special equipment quite aside from the years he had spent learning all the ramifications of brake service. The special brake shoe ar grinder cost him around $250. Many of the cars he services have bonded brake lining, and the special outfit for this represented an investment of $200. He was using an outfit for the more conventional riveted brake lining, and that cost him another $200. That new brake drum lathe represents an investment of $600.

It certainly helps us to understand why millions of cars can make those amazingly efficient stops day after day in our modern traffic.

Q. There's an odd noise in the engine of my car which disappears after it has warmed up. Sounds like something loose, but can't seem to locate the cause. J. L. F.

A. This sounds like a loose manifold heat control valve. I would put up with this awhile longer because these valves usually become too tight and have to be freed up. The rattling should stop after a few additional thousand miles of driving.

Q. When I kick down on the accelerator pedal to get back into third gear from overdrive it seems to me that the engine cuts out for an instant. Is this possible or do I merely imagine it? Wm. L. Jr.

A. The ignition does cease for an instant so that the shift back to third gear can be made.

Q. I am planning to have the engine of my car overhauled. We will use new rings, of course, and I suppose a few new valves. Should

Donor Gives 30 Acres To Pa. Flood Victims

EAST STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A 30-acre tract of land has been donated for use by August flood victims who plan to build new homes, officials announced Thursday. The donor asked to remain anonymous.

Chief Burgess Jesse S. Flory said the land is valued at more than $15,000. It will be divided into 63 lots, each 75 by 130 feet, which will be given to those who lost their homes in the hurricane Diane disaster.

said Thursday night, is believed the greatest amount spent in a single year by a corporation of Ford's size.

Citing the program as proof of "our convictions about the future of the American economy," Ford said the money would come from earnings and not borrowing.

Ford said American business should get ready for a "major breakthrough" into a "higher plateau of production and consumption."

Ford said large companies are no longer owned by a few individuals but thousands of persons are able to own small parts of them through purchase of their stock.

"We might have some stock ourselves soon," he added.

"Unplanned Scarcity"

The company's voting stock now is held by members of the Ford family and the Ford Foundation.

Ford made his remarks in a speech at a dinner at nearby Ramsey, following dedication of a new assembly plant here.

A condition of what he called "unplanned scarcity" exists because, Ford said, "we can't produce adequately to meet the demands of this great American market."

"In this situation," Ford said, "let's do whatever is necessary to build this boom into our economic system."

Today's economic high, he declared, can be "tomorrow's norm."

Then he rapped the "nervous Nellies" who, he said, "have cried out that we were moving ahead too fast."

Ford told the dinner guests he thought that with "reasonable and sound planning, we can hardly build too fast. Just to keep from losing we've got to move ahead."

TRUSTEES MAKE CHOICE; POSTS, POLITICAL VIEW

HARRISBURG (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro says six members of the board of trustees at Wernersville State Hospital can retain their posts if they "separate themselves from their official political positions."

The secretary said Thursday he had not yet accepted a requested resignation from Mrs. W. W. Livingston, Robesonia, and added he will delay asking five other members of the board to resign because of political activities.

Mrs. Livingston is a member of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

Shapiro said a check was made of five trustees on the Wernersville board, four Democrats and a Republican.

These were reported to be Robert R. Gerhart Jr., Robesonia, newly elected board member; Frank R. Katrak, Reading; William A. Keller; and Ira E. Fasnacht, Ephrata, all Democrats, and Earl D. Neidig, West Reading, a Republican.

Shapiro said his checkup left him "tremendously impressed with the calibre of these people and with their reputation for public spirit in community interests," adding:

"I would consider it a pleasure for me to be able to retain each and every one of them on this board and thus I would do if the members of the board would separate themselves from their official political positions."

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Tave Stanley, 41, was killed near West Grove Thursday by a tractor trailer truck when she tried to rescue her son, Ralph, 4, from the oncoming vehicle. The youngster was reported in serious condition with head and body injuries.

Wild Typhoon Wrecks Island; Floods Grow

TOKYO (AP)—A big typhoon roared up the Sea of Japan Friday, a little spent after wrecking the southern island of Kyushu but still a serious threat to the northern islands.

Police said the storm left 20 dead, 10 missing, 105 injured and 120 ships—mostly fishing craft, lost, in the churning seas.

Mountainous Kyushu took some of the wildness from the typhoon, which had blasted two Jima earlier with 172 m.p.h. winds. Weathermen said its maximum gusts were down to about 78 m.p.h.

Police reported almost 1,000 houses destroyed and almost 1,500 seriously damaged on Kyushu. The threat of floods grew after rains ranging up to 16 inches.

Says Cities, Nations Cannot Be Isolated

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII told 700 mayors from around the world Friday that neither cities nor nations "can pretend to remain isolated" in the modern world.

He urged the mayors to promote more active exchanges with cities in other countries to help along the present trend toward more closely uniting nations.

The 79-year-old Pope returned to the Vatican from his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo for the 35-minute audience with delegates to the 12th International Congress of Local Authorities. Seven hundred delegates and 500 members of their families heard the Pope welcome them — in French. More than a dozen U. S. city officials were in the audience.

PERON BACKERS STUBBORN BUT FINALLY QUIT

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Well-armed labor supporters of ousted President Juan D. Peron backed down Thursday night in the face of a grim police threat to blast them from their headquarters.

A possibly serious clash was averted at a building housing a city employees' labor organization, one of three raided by soldiers and police in a search for arms.

About 100 armed union members at first gave a five-minute ultimatum but then began shelling the building.

Other groups raided last night were the railroad workers and bank employees.

Labor organizations, banded together in the big General Confederation of Labor (CGT), provided a major source of power during Peron's regime.

Uncover Corruption
Officials of Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi's new government disclosed new information designed to show the Peron government was shot through with corruption. Newspaper reports said "official circles" have made known "new sensational revelations on the fabulous business conducted by the men of the deposed regime."

These disclosures included reports of a big shipment of gold to Switzerland by members of the former government and shakedown of national lottery agents during the 1954 electoral election campaign.

Foreign Minister Mario Amadeo told a news conference Peron was still on a Paraguayan gunboat anchored in the outer harbor of Buenos Aires, spiking a spate of rumors that the fallen strong man had left the vessel. Amadeo said talks on the "delicate subject" of Peron's exile were holding up the ex-President's boat trip to asylum in Paraguay.

ing a 16-year-old girl—described as a "close friend" of Peron—about details of the former dictator's private life.

A high police official identified the young girl as Nelida (Nelly) Rivas and said she had a "fabulous" collection of jewels, apparently once the property of Peron's late wife Eva. Officers said Miss Rivas had given them leads on others of Peron's "many" girl friends. They said the girl told them she occasionally spent the night at the presidential residence, where Peron introduced her as his "niece."

LETTER LEADS TO MARRIAGE

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A letter of sympathy from Mary N. McIsaac to widower Frank Hudak has culminated in their marriage and a new home for 10 of Hudak's children who had been living in an orphanage.

Hudak's first wife, Sue, died May 20, 1954, leaving him to care for their 12 children.

Hudak, a $56-a-week laborer said he "couldn't be a mother, father and provider" for his brood and tearfully placed 10 of them in an orphanage. His youngest, now a year and a half old, went to live with his first wife's sister in Brooklyn. The eldest, 17, no longer lives at home.

When Miss McIsaac, a Boston, Mass., housekeeper's read of the 44-year-old widower's futile efforts to keep his family together, she wrote him. He answered and a regular correspondence started.

In July, Miss McIsaac visited Hudak's home.

Said Hudak yesterday, "She fell in love with the children and I fell in love with her, just as the children did."

They were married Sept. 11.
